

sound crowd

A lively ice breaker that gets teams acting and dancing with hilarious results.

How It Works

Participants are presented with a well chosen and stimulating array of suggested actions ranging from steering a group of husky dogs in a strong wind to being on a crowded underground train on a Friday night or watching and applauding a magnificent firework display with all the pops, bangs, “ooos” and “aaas”. As they move and mingle, participants discover who is on the same wavelength and bonds are quickly formed. Sound Crowd has been specifically designed with a flexible format which can be tailored to suit any group.

Learning Outcomes

Imagine the outcome from everyone interacting and laughing as they meet and greet each other in a totally unique format where no verbal communication is necessary - just pure body language, enthusiasm, solidarity, fun and smiles. Sound Crowd is a marvellous example of barriers breaking down as people are linked by sounds and actions while having their usual verbal communications overridden by the headphones. Sound Crowd is fun and thought provoking, adding energy to any conference.
